Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received direct from the proprietors, the following valuable Medicines, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronised by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders, for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a Family Medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a Stereotype Label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides; "Lee's Genuine Windham Billious Pills," and on the end of the Label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said Label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's Celebrated Eye-Water:

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources. Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment:

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE.

ODE TO IMPUDENCE.

Integer vitæ, scelerisque purus.
Horace, Book 1, Ode 22.

The man who bears a brazen face.
Quite a son aise, his glass may quaff;
And whether in or out of place,
May twirl his stick and laugh!
Useless to him the broad doubloon,
Red note, or dollar of the mill;
Tho' all his gold be in the moon,
His brass is current money still.
Thus—when my cash was at low water,
At Niblo's I sat down to dine;
And, after a tremendous slaughter
Among the wild-fowl and the wine,
The bill before mine eyes was placed—
When, slightly turning round my head,
"Charge it," cried I—the man, amaz'd!
Star'd—made his congee—and obey'd.

Oh! bear me to some forest thick,
Where wampum'd Choctaws prowl alone;
Where ne'er was heard the name of tick,
And bankrupt laws are quite unknown;
Or to some shop, by bucks abhorr'd,
Where to the longing pauper's sorrow,
The curst inscription decks the board
Of "Pay to day and trust to morrow:"
Or plunge me in the dungeon tower;
With bolts and turnkeys blast mine eyes;
While, call'd from death by Marshall's power,
The ghosts of murdered debts arise?
The easy dupes I'll wheedle still,
With looks of brass and words of honey;
And having scor'd a decent bill,
Pay off my impudence for money.

CROAKER & CO.

ORIGINAL NEW-ENGLAND ANECDOTE.

Riches may be entailed, and nobilility may become hereditary. Wit and wisdom can never be made heir-looms. There are few names more respectable among the patriarchs of Massachusetts than Governor Dudley and Judge Sewall, yet the former had a daughter, who could scarce keep out of the fire and water, and the latter a son of equal abilities. The prudence of the old gentlemen intermarried these wiseacres. In due time after the Marriage, Judge Sewall, then sitting at the Council board in Boston, received a letter informing him that his daughter-in-law, was delivered of a fine son—he communicated the billet to the governor, who, after perusing it, observed, with an arch severity, "brother Sewall, I am thinking how we shall contrive to prevent this grandson of ours from being as great a fool as his father." "I believe," retorted Judge Sewall, "I believe, brother Dudley, we must not let him suck his mother." [Galaxy

DRAUGHTS.

It is common in Ireland and England for different parishes and counties to select a given number of men to play at athletic exercises, against an equal number, from a neighboring parish or county. Cricket in England, and hurling in Ireland, are the sports most commonly selected for such appointed trials of skill, and strength, upon which much money is frequently betted. From the following article, which we select from an Edinburg paper, it would appear that the close thinking mathematical heads of the Scots, have induced them to select for their trials of skill, a game in which nothing is given to strength nor left to chance. There is a strong indication of national character in the selection of popular amusements. [Dem. Press.

The people of Lanark are become famous at the game of DRAUGHTS. They some time ago successively engaged and beat the parishes of Lesmahagow, Douglas, Covington, Libberton, and Carluke. On Saturday se'enaight they met with a party from the parish of Stonehouse, at Nethanfoot, in the parish of Lesmahagow, when in a keen contest of fifty games, the Lanark players gained twenty-two, and Stonehouse eighteen games. The other ten were drawn; thus leaving Lanark victorious by four games.

ALEXANDRIA:
MONDAY, APRIL 26, 1819.

I never hear any one proposing to regulate duelling by way of abating the evils of the practice, without great astonishment—as if it could diminish the heinousness of a villanous crime, to commit it by rule. Among the most profligate people, no one was ever found so wild or so wicked as to propose a regulation of adultery as a cure for its evils. That must be a very loose and disjointed intellect to which it could occur that a thing malum in se could be changed in its nature by being reduced to a system. Like a deadly poison, it must be expelled, or it will destroy. But how regulate it in any of its manifold absurdities?—They talk of battle by duel equalizing the parties;—but does not the most vulgar common sense, and every day's experience, give the lie direct to the assertion? One of its most unjust aspects is, that it exposes worth, virtue and excellence, to the same danger as vice and consummate villany. In nine out of ten of the duels which are fought, the inequality is as great as if a fortune of millions were staked against a copper or a counter. Numbers of those who follow the infamous trade of duelling, are men already undone, rendered desperate by their own criminal practices, and, like the murderer in Macbeth, ready to commit any atrocity that would help them either "to mend life or get rid of it." An indigent, worthless bully of this kind, who knows no more how he shall live in this world, than he does how he shall fare in the next, is angry to see his neighbor in easy circumstances—in good repute—and happy in all that can render life felicitous. Stimulated by envy and malice, he contrives to pick a quarrel with him—to which he is the more strongly impelled by his opinion of the superior skill which successive and bloody practices of the kind have given him. Such men too seldom have the feeling, the usefulness, or the moral disposition, to have wives or children;—or if it should happen otherwise, are so ill qualified to discharge the duties of father, or husband, or head of a family, that their death may often be enumerated among the best benefits they could confer on their families. The other has an amiable wife, a large flock of hopeful children, and discharges all the domestic duties with the most exemplary correctness and tenderness. The meeting of those two men to slaughter each other, is what the bloody gang of duellists would call equality—putting them on an equal footing—but what will they do with the difference between the two men whose lives are at stake? All the worth of all the duellists that ever disgraced Christendom, thrown into the scale with the one, could not bring it to an equality with the other. If a swaggering dicer throws down a purse full of brass counters, or produces a bundle of forged bank notes, no one will be fool enough to stake gold against them. If life then be either valuable to keep, or dangerous to lose, what a madman must he be, who ventures it against a person whose life is of value to no one—no, not even to himself?—When Mark Antony lost the battle of Actium, and was penned up in Alexandria, he was weak enough to send a challenge to Augustus to fight him in single combat—to which the latter sent for answer, "that if he (Antony) was weary of living, there were other ways of dispatching himself beside fighting him—and for his part, he would not take upon himself the trouble of being his executioner." Antony seemed to think Cæsar's suggestion quite reasonable; for he soon after put himself to death. Our duellists, however, would much rather cut any other man's throat than their own.

This mention of equality in mutual murder, calls to mind a whimsical incident that occurred some years ago, on one of the roads from Dublin to London. Two dashing young blades of the sod, being on their way to the metropolis of the British empire, to shew themselves to the English ladies, and make their fortunes by marriage, stopped at the great inn at Holyhead, and to keep themselves in laudable employment while the coach was getting ready, proceeded with their pistols to the garden, to keep their hands in, by shooting at a mark. Having pinned a patch of paper to the door of a certain building, in the garden, they measured back twelve paces from it, and one of them, taking aim, let fly at the mark:—the other was just in the attitude to follow the example, when he was interrupted by a voice from within, vociferating, yo boy there, belay, belay, and be d——d to you!—and out came a venerable figure of a military aspect and deportment, who, with much good humor, expostulated with the young Hibernians (who were in fact his countrymen) on the absurdity of firing a pistol ball at a thin pine door, without knowing whether any one was within; and shewed them the bullet sticking in the wall at a very small distance from where he had been sitting. He who fired the first shot made a very handsome apology for the mistake, and concluded by telling the aggrieved person, that if that did not seem enough he was willing to give him the satisfaction of a gentleman for it. Very well sir, said the elderly gentleman—taking the pistol that remained loaded—now go you into that house, sit down just where I was, shut the door upon you, and I will measure off twelve paces, and fire at the mark as well as I can; we shall then be on an equal footing: and let me tell you young gentleman, that, poor as it is, that is the only satisfaction you have it in your power to afford me. The young men seemed as if suddenly awakened from a dream—they were filled with concern, and felt disposed to give their whole attention to the friendly and impressive animadversions of their venerable instructor, who, while he knew the foibles, knew the virtues also of his countrymen, and was aware, that however inconsiderate, neither cruelty or vindictiveness ever mingled with the emotions of their hearts. While he was in the act of expostulating with them, a waiter entered the garden to announce that his lordship's coach was ready—upon which he shook hands with them, and bid them a hearty farewell.

My lord, the coach is ready!—Why, what lord is he?—they followed to inquire, and were told that the life they had so nearly sacrificed to their folly, was one the most valued and dear to his country—that of lord Longford, illustrious for his private virtues, and for his public services in the British navy—the father (we believe) of general Packenham, who fell at New-Orleans, and of the present duchess of Wellington; and the same who used among the seamen to be called old Trunnion.

MAP OF VIRGINIA.

The Executive of Virginia have made a contract with Mr. John. Wood, of Richmond, for making a map of that state, and a chart of each county from topographical surveys. He is allowed five fiears to complete the work, and is to receive forty thousand dollars compensation. [The legislature of every State, should be the guardians of the public welfare and prosperity, and by liberal grants, put in activity the genius and enterprise of the people.]

Boston Gazette.

The bill for taxing bank stock has been rejected in the New-York Senate by a majority of seven; sixteen for rejecting, and nine against it

Before the Circuit Court of the state of Kentucky, at Bardstown, was tried, towards the close of the last month, a suit for slander, in which Miss Des Marsley, alias Mrs. Fishley, was plaintiff, and Mr. Fishley, of Louisville, defendant. After a trial of two days, the jury being permitted to retire, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, and assessed the damages at twenty-seven thousand nine hundred dollars. This is a curious case; for the parties had been married, and the husband, the defendant, had in a few days after marriage deserted his wife. However, the verdict, it appears, falls to the ground; the Judge having decided, that the marriage being a legal one, a suit for slander could not be maintained by the wife against the husband.

At a public dinner given to General Jackson at Knoxville, Tenn. the following among other toasts were given:—

The President of the United States.—He has capacity to understand, and firmness to admit, the meaning of orders given his Generals.

John Q. Adams.—A statesman of sterling worth. His reply to the Spanish Secretary's manifesto, speaks the sentiments of the people. 'Tis an able exposition of the law of nations, and the rights of the American Republic.

Andrew Jackson.—May the tongue become politically dead that would tarnish his reputation, and the arm be unnerved, that would pluck a sprig of the laurel, which public gratitude has entwined round his brow.

The Constitution of the United States.—It has redeemed the dignity of human nature, buried for ages in the rubbish of tyranny.

The Senate of the United States.—Let them be cautious; whilst charging others with the high crime of violating the Constitution, they may be found departing from the fundamental maxim, "that no man shall be condemned unheard."

Public Sentiment.—It will never suffer merit to be sacrificed to unworthy motives.

EXPEDITIOUS TRAVELLING.

Several gentlemen who left Norfolk on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, in the Steam Boat Virginia, Capt. Ferguson, were put on board the New-Jersey, Capt. Campbell, eight miles from Baltimore, at half past 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and, via Elkton and New-Castle, arrived here last evening in the Deleware, Capt. Jenkins; the whole time 36 hours.

Travellers leaving Philadelphia in the steam-boat at 12 o'clock on Wednesdays, may reach Norfolk at 9'clock on Friday morning, without fatigue, their being but 16 miles inland stage.

VALUABLE MERCHANDIZE.

The sch. Mary sailed a few weeks since from Newburyport, with a cargo of ice, for a Southern port, where it was sold for a sum sufficient to purchase a full cargo of corn. In noticing this fact, the Newburyport Herald remarks—"We shall be very willing to exchange this luxury with our southern brethren for such simple necessaries as bread stuffs!"

SEED CORN.

It has been found, in some recent experiments, that there have been no failures in a given number of seeds sown after having been heated, while 12 out of a score of good seed that had not been heated have failed to vegetate. In consequence, inquiry is on foot to ascertain whether heated grain might not be substituted, with advantage, for common seed.

It is said caterpillars will quit the leaves of a bush, to attach themselves to a piece of wool hung in it. [London paper.

IMPOSTORS.

A woman of decent appearance applied last week at the dwelling of a respectable gentleman in this city, to the lady of the house, and stated, "that she had just met the gentleman going out, and had applied to him for a small donation to aid in relieving a very meritorious and distressed family, for which she was soliciting assistance; that he said he had no bank notes of small value in his pocket, and directed her to call and receive the money from his wife."—The lady believing the artful tale, which was wholly a fabrication, gave the sum demanded. We have been assured that several instances of similar impositions have been practised in this city within the last two or three weeks. [Balt. Gazette.

Norfolk, April 15.

The body of Mr. Joseph H. Hall, late of Portsmouth, who was consigned to a watry grave on the 7th of last month, on his passage from Hampton, in the Steam-Boat Sea-Horse, was picked up on Tuesday evening last, about half past five o'clock by captain Bennett, of one of the Hampton Boats, on her passage over from this place. It was found floating on the water, near the head of Hampton Bar, and within about one hundred yards of the spot where the melancholy accident occurred. Although the body had been nearly six weeks under water, the inside of his left pantaloons pocket was quite dry.

His hair and face was somewhat disfigued with mud, his nose flattened, apparently by a a bruize sustained in his fall from the boat—and when taken from the water, the blood ran from the bruize on his nose, as from a fresh wound. In his pockets were found his keys, knife, comb, snuff box, watch and chain, pocket book, &c. and seven gold buttons were attached to his vest. Dr. Wilmot F. Rogers, of the Navy, and a Mr. Armistead Booker of Richmond, were in captain Bennett's boat when the corpse was discovered and taken up.

On Tuesday last, the following melancholy accident happened near Patterson, New-Jersey.

A man named William Gordon, by trade a Weaver, aged about 31 years, in going from that place towards the Little Falls, a distance of four miles, unfortunately lost his way, and in his haste to get there suddenly fell from a rock ninety feet high.—His bones were broken in various places, and his body so severely injured, that he expired next morning about ten o'clock.—Mr. Gordon was an honest, sober and very industrious man, and was greatly esteemed by those who knew him. He had resided in this country from last autumn, and by his industry and economy was preparing as soon as possible to effect the removal of his family from England, which consisted of a wife and one child. MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE.

On the 3d inst. Mr. Cornelius P. Doremus, of Pequannock township, Morris county, was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. We understand he had been out shooting wild ducks in a skiff—that in approaching the shore the gun went off, and its contents went thro' one of his knees, opening the blood vessels to such a degree that he expired in fifteen minutes after the fatal accident.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Capt. Matthieu, of the fast sailing ship Dido, in 38 days from Havre, has favored us with Paris papers to the 8th March.—The report of the dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies, and suspension of the Peers House, is not correct—both Chambers were in session on the 6th.

By two Royal Decrees of the 4th and 5th upwards of eighty new members were added to the chamber of peers, to strengthen the Court party.

Prices at Havre, March 8—Sales.

LATEST FROM BORDEAUX.

The Woodbine sailed from Bordeaux on 5th of last month, and brings the report, which was contradicted in the London papers, that the French house of deputies had been dissolved, and that of the Peers suspended. The commercial distresses of France continued, and business at a stand.

FROM HAVANA.

The United States' ship John Adams, captian Wadsworth, was at Havana on 4th instant, waiting an answer from the government there, to an application for some American citizens detained as prisoners on piratical charges, after which she would sail direct for this port, The John Adams, after leaving Jamaica, (as mentioned in our last) proceeded to Campeachy, and thence off Vera Cruz, but was not allowed to enter there.

From late German papers received at the office of the N. Y. Daily Advertiser.

The university of Arlangan, the only Protestant acadamy in Bavaria, flourishes more and more, under the auspices of government. The salaries of the professors have been increased—the revenue of the university has been augmented to 61,000 fl. and the library contains upwards of 100,000 vols.

The Synod of the United Brethren (Moravians) which met last summer at Herrnhut, consisted of more than 50 deputies, from the various establishments of this religious society in various parts of the world. This conference lasted four months. It is expected that the Moravian establishments, particularly those in Russia, at the Cape of Good Hope, and in North America, will derive great benefit from the result of the recent discussion at Herrnhut.

The recently etsablished University at Bonn, on the Rhine, promises to become one of the most important in Germany.—It has lately received every valuable donation from distinguished gentlemen. The minister of state, Freyherr Von Stein, presented to the University his select cabinet of Minerals, formerly of Nassau.

The Royal Society of Sciences, at Gottingen, has proposed the following prize question: A view and critical comparison of the ancient monuments of every kind which have hitherto been discovered in America, with the Asiatic and Egyptian monuments. In how far do they agree or differ, and what are the grounds for the supposition, that at a very ancient period a connexion existed between these distant countries and their inhabitants?

The following is translated from an advertisement in a late number of the Hamburg Correspondent—

"Friends and acquaintances are informed that on the 9th of Dec. 1817, at Wahren, in Mecklenburg, I have received the consecration of the Christian religion, and that with all my soul I profess the doctrine of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. To prevent a partial or false view of this step which I have taken, and to show my former fellow believers, whom, though I pity, I shall ever love according to the doctrine of Jesus, that he who from principle leaves the Jewish, and embraces the Christian, religion is not to be dispised, but rather to be respected; the following may serve as an explanation:

The confidence of my former and present fellow believers, which I possessed during a three years residence in Mecklenburg, will I trust shield me against the imputation of self-interest—besides, this step, instead of improving my temporal situation has impaired it. Therefore, not with any sinister views, but purely with the firm conviction that thereby alone I should find repose of conscience and peace of mind, have I embraced the christian religion.—And I arrived at this conviction, by searching and proving. Prove your ownselves, brethren! Read the Old and New Testament. The extraordinary sublimity of the doctrines of the latter will first address your reason—there you will learn to know God, not as the father of a single people only, but as the father of all; the doctrines concerning his divine attributes, will convince you of his all perfection, and you yourselves see that it is an offence against the Supreme Being, to wish to reconcile him, the Most High, through trivial customs or be abstaining from certain meats—there you will learn to know the Father as Father, and him who has given us these doctrines, as his promised and only begotten Son.—And, should any doubts yet remain—O then read the history, and tell me, who were they that would not acknowledge the divinity of Jesus? Learn to know them the Pharisees, learn to know the corruption of those times, and you will exclaim with me—Yes, Jesus, thou art the Son of God!

Most Valuable Landed Property for Sale.

BEING anxious to move to the south-western country, I am disposed to sell that most valuable and well known farm in Charles county, Maryland, called The Meadows, and a part of Westwood Manor.—This tract contains 930 acres, is most eligibly situated, lying in the fork of the two branches of the Wicomico river. As to fertility of soil, and advantages of every description, it is equalled but by few—surpassed by none.

Also, the farm on which I reside, called Somerset, in the County of King George, Virginia. This tract contains 676 acres, by late survey, and is also well situated, lying on the Potomac river, (opposite col. John Taylor's Maryland estate) and bounded by the same upwards of a mile, is in a progressive state of improvement under the clover and plaster system, which has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations.

Also, two other small tracts in Westmoreland county, Va. containing 325 acres.

Also, 1140 acres of military land, in the state of Ohio.

As it is presumed that no person will (and as it is my desire that no one should) purchase without viewing the premises, I will not give a minute description of these tracts. Indisputable title will be made in every instance. Persons wishing to purchase, will please make application personally, or by letter addressed, to the subscriber, near Hampton post office, Virginia.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or Vaccine Institution.

THE small pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution, as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
